

Cruise Line	What It's Like	What's Included	Why We Like It	What's New for 2013
Alaskan Dream Cruises^{THC}	Specialty line plying the waters of Alaska's Inside Passage with three small vessels carrying 66 or fewer guests; ideal for those wanting an authentic "Alaska" adventure the big ships can't deliver	All on-board meals; an array of shore excursions; Alaskan gear (parkas, boots, etc.) and binoculars for use during the cruise; ground transportation to/from airport	In-depth expedition-style forays into the great Alaskan wilds; small ships that give you an up-close look at glaciers; a true "Alaska" experience as seen through the eyes of Alaskans; read more at www.Hideaways.com/sailalaskandream	A third ship, the 62-passenger Baranof Dream , with debut sailings late May through August 2013
AmaWaterways^{THC}	A fleet of 15 custom-designed river-cruising vessels in Europe, Russia, Vietnam, Cambodia, and Africa; great for couples who want to explore the culture of historic cities while only unpacking once	All on-board meals; wine and beer at dinner; bottled water, specialty coffees, and teas; daily guided excursions; fleet of bicycles; wireless Internet access	Unique themed itineraries like Jewish Heritage, Port Wine & Flamenco, and Christmas Markets; a floating boutique hotel that travels with you	Two new French-inspired itineraries for 2013, "Paris & Normandy" and "The Jewels of France;" two new deluxe 164-passenger vessels for 2014 that incorporate the most advanced river-cruise ship design, including Twin Balconies
Compagnie du Ponant^{THC}	Premium line with yacht-like ships carrying 64 to 264 passengers; appeals to couples who prefer the intimate European style of a mega-yacht vs. more standard cruising	All on-board meals; open-bar policy; on-board gratuities; 24-hour room service;	European flair, sleekness, and service; highly social on-board atmosphere; visits much smaller ports, often without tendering in, so you spend more time ashore	The debut in June 2013 of Le Soléal , a brand-new mega-yacht with 132 staterooms and suites, with balconies, sailing under the French flag
Oceania Cruises^{THC}	Premium line with medium ships carrying 684 to 1,250 guests; appeals to foodies (excellent cuisine), couples, and families with older children	All on-board dining, including specialty restaurants; soft drinks and bottled water; 24-hour room service	Good value for a premium line, especially in higher-level stateroom categories (equals luxury cruise); known for its innovative cuisine and unique, hands-on cooking instruction in Bon Appétit Culinary Center	Celebrating its 10th anniversary with four special sailings, each featuring a different executive who will host an anniversary cocktail reception, celebratory caviar brunch, and gala dinner
Paul Gauguin Cruises^{THC}	Premium small-ship line with 90- and 332-guest ships; perfect for those wanting an immersive experience in Tahiti and the Society Islands	Select wines & spirits; bottled water, soft drinks, & hot beverages; all meals in all venues; on-board gratuities; 24-hour room service	Designed specifically to sail the shallow seas and lagoons of French Polynesia; Les Gauguines, an on-board troupe of Tahitian entertainers and storytellers; private motus for a day of swimming, barbecue, and cocktails	Expanding beyond French Polynesia with the new 90-guest m/v Tere Moana , sailing the Caribbean, Central & South America, and Europe
Regent Seven Seas Cruises^{THC}	Luxury medium-ship line with 480 to 700 guests on 3 ships; great for multi-generational family cruises and those seeking lots of choices in shore excursions	Round-trip airfare; one-night pre-cruise hotel stay; all alcoholic spirits and wine; dining in specialty restaurants; 24-hour room service; on-board gratuities; Pilates and yoga classes; free unlimited shore excursions	Regionally inspired culinary and wine tastings; highest level of "all-inclusive" program in the industry to date; all the amenities you'll find on the big ships, just on a smaller scale	Bonus one-night post-cruise hotel stay with all Winter Collection 2013-14 voyages (limited-time offer); select Seven Seas Voyager sailings in Winter 2014 offering 3-night pre- or post-cruise fully escorted land programs for $499/person additional
Sea Cloud^{THC}	Specialty line with 2 small sailing yachts carrying 65 and 96 guests, and an 88-guest river cruising vessel; perfect for the adventurous and well-traveled who appreciate elegance without pretentiousness	Welcome champagne in cabin; soft drinks and bottled water; select wines and beer at lunch and dinner; most on-board meals	Authentic nautical "hoisting the sails" experience of a true sailing yacht; unique on-board panache; elegant staterooms reminiscent of the golden era of sailing; camaraderie among like-minded passengers; www.Hideaways.com/travelseadream	Winter cruises in Costa Rica for Sea Cloud , new spring programs in the Azores for Sea Cloud II , and "Light" theme cruises aboard River Cloud II ; a cruise/cycling tour of the Med, with stops in Malta, Sardinia, Mallorca, and more
Silversea Cruises	Luxury small-ship line carrying 132 to 540 guests on 7 ships, including 2 expedition vessels (think adventure + luxury)	All wines and spirits; non-alcoholic beverages; 24-hour room service; on-board gratuities; shoreside events on select voyages; guided shore excursions when traveling aboard Silver Explorer ; transportation to town in most ports	All-suite accommodations with butler service on each ship; specialty cruises like Culinary & Wine Voyages and Bridge Sailings (supervised by certified ACBL Life Master instructors); the "Slow Food" concept, which embraces the line's Italian heritage; www.Hideaways.com/cruisingalaska	A new expedition ship, the 100-passenger Silver Galapagos , exclusively sailing the Galapagos Islands; an extraordinary 113-day World Cruise 2014 aboard Silver Whisper , with special festivities marking Silversea's 20th anniversary add "festivities" here