Unequaled Exploration

22- to 88-Guest Small Ships
November 2015 through April 2017

Welcome Aboard!

Dear Adventurers,

We couldn't be more excited for 2016—it's our 20th anniversary! I'm proud of our steadfast dedication to hands-on, small group cruises that deliver unforgettable memories. But our greatest success is the resounding support from our guests who spend life's important travel moments with us—often returning again. We know you have a choice and thank you for being a part of our first 20 years.

Another notable celebration is the 100th anniversary of America's National Park Service. On August 25, 1916, President Wilson signed the act creating our National Park system, including Glacier Bay and Olympic National Parks—certainly a legacy worth honoring and we are thrilled to participate in the centennial.

New for 2016 are two Alaska itineraries highlighting the paths of those who shaped the landscape—intrepid frontiersmen, and naturalist John Muir. We're also beginning explorations in two new destinations—Galápagos and Central America. Discover these new adventures in the following pages.

Come aboard with us—let's raise a glass together to celebrate our wild world and extraordinary exploration.

Fair winds!

Exploring waters inaccessible to larger ships, mingling with locals (both the civilized and wild-and-woolly kind), and creating lifelong memories—all focused on activities and excursions that complement the wilderness, wildlife, culture, and heritage of the places we visit.

ONBOARD TEAM

We're not bashful about it, our crew is the best in the industry. Our captains, chefs, expedition and heritage guides, and hotel and deck staff are individually selected not only for their outstanding knowledge, experience, customer service, and safety skills, but also for their genuine enthusiasm and welcoming spirit.

Prior to each season our crew undergoes comprehensive training in areas such as leadership, safety, guest management, and sustainability practices. Earning certifications and licenses from private, state and federal organizations, and in everything from food service and guiding to Wilderness First Responder and CPR, they confidently provide an adventurous and safe cruise experience.

“What really exceeded my expectations was not the lovely scenery, the fun passengers, the varied activities—that was all great, but it was the crew that made my trip amazing.”

— Debbie A., Portal, AZ (Hawaii 2014)

EXPERTS IN THE FIELD

In addition to getting extraordinarily close to nature and wildlife, we provide opportunities to learn along the way. We engage experts and historians to interpret, narrate, or bring history to life. In Alaska, a U.S. Forest Service wilderness ranger may kayak up to the vessel and hop aboard to talk about natural history. Or in Hawaii, an elder gives you a hands-on lesson in making poi. And on special themed departures, the experience is enhanced by one-on-one interactions with your guest host.

BUT DON'T JUST TAKE OUR WORD

Guests rave about the Un-Cruise experience and how genuine our crew is. Yet the biggest endorsement from our guests: they come back, and they refer us to their friends. Our secret... we work in thriving environments; we promote good health in our bodies and on our planet; we enjoy freedom from perpetual hurry; and we get to share our casual, unconventional, memory-making adventures with you.

We've deservedly earned our reputation—one guest at a time.

Unforgettable Themes

ALASKA

Be Among the Few — Experience Real Alaska

“I visited Alaska before on a big cruise. I thought that was informative until I arrived on this cruise. I really don’t think the big cruise counts as a visit to Alaska. There is no comparison!”

— Ann P., Naperville, IL (Alaska 2014)

Thoreau once wrote, “We need the tonic of wildness... We can never have enough of nature.” And Alaska delivers. Shaped by massive glaciers over millions of years, Alaska’s temperate rainforests, wildlife-rich fjords, and spectacular scenery have had significant time to gain clout as a must-see destination. For centuries, the channels and waterways of Southeast Alaska have served as important travel corridors for Native Tlingit, Tsimshian, and Haida peoples, and a natural laboratory of discovery for explorers, authors, naturalists, and visionaries.

Nobody does Alaska better than us, offers more variety, or provides adventure like we do. Our Alaska adventures focus on experiencing life on the outside—cloud failure or liquid sunshine—paddling, hiking, hot tub under the stars, even playing in the mud. We have a diverse fleet of small ships perfectly suited to foster uncommon encounters and unexpected experiences: Glacier Bay National Park; brown bears, black bears, and “polar bear plunges”; rainforests and glaciers; hiking and kayaking; humpback whales and orca; bald eagles and sea birds. Do as much or as little as you like—you have the choice in how you’d like to discover it. Whether opting for an expedition vessel or boutique yacht, your expert expedition team will guide you on a unique and unforgettable journey.

Pre- & Post-Cruise Extensions

Your Alaska experience wouldn't be complete without a visit to the interior and Denali National Park. Choose a guided land tour (escorted by an Un-Cruise representative), or one of our other carefully planned options. We've done the legwork!

“The shimmer of the opaline sea...and snowy summits on the faint horizon give a dream-like coloring to all one’s thoughts.”

A turning point in any life, it was Eliza’s first trip to Alaska. A maverick led by a strong mind and heart, Eliza Scidmore—writer, photographer, lecturer, geographer—embarked on a fascinating journey along the Inside Passage delivering supplies and mail in the summer of 1883. Her first book recounted her Alaska travels, launching a lifelong career as a travel writer. Setting sail northward from Seattle through the Salish Sea and on to Alaska, your adventure will be just as memorable.

DAYS 2-12

Fill your days with backcountry hikes, paddling pristine coves, intertidal shore walks, and fantastic companionship—orca, seals, sea lions and otters, whales, dolphins, sea birds, bald eagles, and of course, your fellow adventurers. Explore quaint Friday Harbor’s maritime history and enjoy an afternoon of gunkholing before passing through Canada’s and Alaska’s Inside Passages. Paddling the glacial valleys in Misty Fjords National Monument provides an up-close look of this majestic wilderness. In Wrangell and Ketchikan, hear stories of Tlingit culture, view carved totems, and stroll notorious Creek Street, once a red-light district in downtown Ketchikan.

Behm Canal’s abundant wildlife; kayaking, paddle boarding, skiffing, and hiking in Thomas Bay; and zigzagging navigational lights in Wrangell Narrows “Christmas Tree Lane” are just a few interesting nuggets to write home about. Watch for breaching whales and orca in the summer feeding grounds of Stephens Passage. In the glacially carved fjord of Endicott Arm, take note of arctic terns or harbor seals lazing on a passing berg. And the calving white thunder of Dawes Glacier is astounding. On your final evening, enjoy the Captain’s Farewell Dinner and a picturesque recap of your journey presented by your expedition team.

DAY 13

Enjoy breakfast with your mates, then disembark for your transfer to the Juneau airport or to your Un-Cruise hotel stay.

Pre- & post-cruise options are also available. See pages 37-41 for details.

“The clearest way into the universe is through a forest wilderness.”

The fascination John Muir—America’s most famous and influential naturalist—had with the Alaskan wilderness didn’t stop after his first expedition in the 1870s. He found himself so overwhelmed by a grandiose landscape of forested islands and rugged waterfalls, he deemed it “hopelessly beyond description.” Boarding in Juneau, begin taking in this incredible, raw country from the bow of the boat. While you don’t need to grow a long white beard like his, you’ll happily follow in Muir’s awed footsteps.

DAYS 2-7

There’s no easing into it—Alaska is a jaw-dropper from the get-go. A favorite of humpbacks in the summer, Icy Strait will become a favorite of yours, too. Watch for their telltale blow, as well as for seals and porpoises. In the perfect “classroom” for discovering Muir’s Alaska, glide along the coastline by skiff or kayak for your first up-close view of the territory. Embrace the splendor when a Glacier Bay National Park Ranger joins you for the day to give the behind-the-scenes scoop on the movement of glaciers and wildlife.

Navigating the waterways of the Tongass National Forest, your captain will find the ideal anchor. Take it easy in a skiff, or grab a paddle to kayak or paddle board in hidden bays and inlets along Chatham Strait. Whichever mode you choose, you’ll be swapping big fish stories over hand-crafted cocktails with your shipmates at the day’s end. It’s all about varied landscapes and wildlife—bear, eagles, blue heron, marine life—in Thomas Bay and Port Houghton. Join your expedition guides to beachcomb, hike inland, or paddle a tidal lake. As Muir likely did, feel a rush of exhilaration (and a chill) near the face of Dawes Glacier. A skiff ride through iceberg strewn water reveals exquisite glacial views along with “ooh’s”, “aah’s”, and the roar of white thunder. Celebrate your week in Muir’s beloved Alaska with a toast from your captain and a slideshow by your expedition team.

DAY 8

Enjoy one last breakfast before transferring to the Juneau airport or your Un-Cruise extended stay.

Pre- & post-cruise options are also available. See pages 37-41 for details.

“...A summer cruise for the pleasure and recreation of my family and a few friends.”

After being prescribed a long vacation for what ailed him, E.H. Harriman followed his adventure-sense, deciding Alaska was just the place to heal mind, body, and soul. Along with family and friends—including 23 scientists and a handful of artists, John Muir, John Burroughs, and Edward S. Curtis among them—he headed north by steamer. Perhaps you’ll uncover Alaska’s special tonic, too—we might even suggest an energizing “polar bear plunge!”

DAYS 2-7

Traveling nearly 60 miles up-bay, for two days a Glacier Bay National Park Ranger shares the park’s fascinating geology and history and joins in on landlubbing adventure. Take a boot-sucking hike through sandbars of glacial silt or hike atop a towering peak for the view from above. Kayak in the quiet of majestic wilderness and relish in unfettered time on hikes ashore. Arriving back at the boat, your crackerjack team greets you with a warm mug of hot chocolate, so enjoy the thrill of the wild, and the welcomed coddling.

More ultimate exploration awaits you in Icy Strait, Frederick Sound, and Stephens Passage—some of the richest whale waters in Southeast Alaska. Join the captain on the bridge or go on deck with your expedition team and watch for porpoise, sea lions, and the telltale blow of humpbacks. Cliff-walled fjords and a pristine tidal inlet are on tap as you slip into an area widely acclaimed as one of the most beautiful in Alaska—Endicott Arm and Fords Terror. Majestic wilderness by kayak or skiff, a unique opportunity indeed. Rugged mountains gleam high overhead and a glacier actively calves into the ice-filled fjord. Enjoy a festive Farewell Dinner, and before turning in, your expedition team shares a photo journal of your voyage.

"It's such a big dream. I can't see it all."

Relatively unknown in those days, aspiring photographer Edward S. Curtis joined E.H. Harriman's expedition in 1899 by a stroke of luck. As chief photographer on the voyage, the expedition had a lasting impact on Curtis, influencing his future work. With camera in hand—though a less cumbersome model than what he used—sail from Juneau into Stephens Passage, capturing the blue, green, and white hues of this massive landscape in your memory and in photos. As it did for Curtis, it will leave a lasting and moving impression on you, too.

DAYS 2-7

Watch a river of ice drop sharply into the sea, and if luck is on your side, witness the power of Dawes Glacier and hear the thunderous crack as a section of the face calves away. Explore icy Endicott Arm by skiff, spotting buoyant seals lounging on bergy bits and sure-footed mountain goats along the steep coastline. Port Houghton boasts a wealth of wild inhabitants—sea birds, shore birds, birds of prey, and bear. Kayak or paddle board into the hidden reaches of the cove; test your balance on the paddle board and investigate the rugged coastline; or set foot onshore along a coastal river trail.

A playground for easygoing whales, sea lions, and harbor seals, take in the wilderness of Baranof and Chichagof Islands with your captain on the bridge and hit the woods to explore emerald forests with your expedition guide on an inland hike. Tumbling waterfalls and steep cliff walls are the setting for kayaking and skiffing along coves and inlets. In Icy Strait, scan the surface for the blow of whales and savor a last day of play looking for unexpected "treasures" along the rugged coastline in the skiff. Soak up the evening sky in the hot tub before your Farewell Dinner, and afterwards share smiles with a special photo recap from your crew.

DAY 8

Savor a delicious breakfast, then wish your captain and crew goodbye. You'll be transferred to the airport in Juneau or to your Un-Cruise extended stay.

Pre- & post-cruise options are also available. See pages 37-41 for details.

In a land where everything is great—mountains, glaciers, wilderness, and wildlife...

Not to mention thousands of miles of coastline—one has to wonder what the fuss was about when U.S. Secretary of State William Seward instigated the purchase of Alaska from Russia. Unwavering in his effort, in March 1867 it became Seward's most successful achievement. The purchase was mocked by the public as "Seward's Folly," but rolling in his grave, he had the last laugh with the discovery of gold a mere 30 years later. Sail out of Juneau and discover its greatness for yourself.

DAYS 2-7

Your captain determines the best starting point for backcountry adventure. Jump start your week with a paddle or skiff ride and you're likely to be welcomed by "local" harbor seals. Accompanied by a ranger in Glacier Bay—one of America's crown jewel national parks and a UNESCO World Heritage Site and Biosphere Reserve—the park is yours for the taking. Be awed by hues of glacier blue, learn the park's history, and take in a hike at Bartlett Cove. Linger and be entertained at odoriferous South Marble Island, a Steller sea lion haulout and guillemot colony.

Set your course for the whale and wildlife-rich waters of Icy Strait. Then, join the captain on the bridge or your expedition team out on deck while watching for whales, sea lions, mountain goats, sea otters, eagles, puffins, Black Oystercatchers and other creatures. Ride the skiffs—binoculars in hand—for a close inspection of the rugged shore, keeping watch for bears. Anchored in remote waters, lower the kayaks or enjoy an intertidal walk with your guides on Chichagof and Kuiu Islands. The small boat haven of Peril Strait connects to the narrow Sergius Narrows—a magnet for wildlife and great place to watch for bears, otters, whales, and eagles. After an adventurous last day, toast your voyage with a festive Farewell Dinner and a photo "journal" of your week by your expedition team.

DAY 8

Gather for breakfast as you cruise into Russian-influenced Sitka, then disembark for your transfer to the airport or to your Un-Cruise land extension.

Pre- & post-cruise options are also available. See pages 37-41 for details.

“Just think! Some night the stars will gleam”

And you could be sitting in the hot tub beneath them. Author and poet Robert Service didn't have a hot tub, but he did write that line about the stars. And after years on the Alaska frontier, he'd seen a few. To be sure, he'd seen and heard plenty—gripping yarns of the wild Northwest and the pursuit of “the muck called gold.” Falling in love with the stories, he became an armchair adventurer. Now it's time to pack your sense of adventure, board your vessel, and write your own tales as you sail from Juneau.

DAYS 2-7

Snow covered mountains, glowing blues, and the white thunder of calving ice take your breath away at the face of Dawes Glacier. Gliding through Endicott Arm, you'll likely spot seals taking respite on the glacier's smaller “bergy bits” and, tides permitting, explore narrow Fords Terror. Poetic in every sense of the word, the Thomas Bay wilderness offers up some of the finest paddling and hiking in Southeast Alaska. Take it easy on a lush forest trail or intertidal shore walk; or get down and dirty in the muskeg and mud. And in Wrangell, totems and a sacred tribal house reveal Tlingit and Haida legends and lore.

Wild life is everywhere—but in Stephens Passage and along Behm Canal, it'll likely take shape in the form of bears, wolves, harbor seals, sea lions, orca, and humpbacks. Soak in the splendor of Misty Fjords National Monument—affectionately called “The Yosemite of the North.” Glacial valleys filled with sea water, and sheer 3,000-foot cliffs are a haven for sea birds, bears, mountain goats, Sitka black-tailed deer, moose, and other wildlife. This evening, enjoy a farewell toast and reminisce about your journey over a savory dinner.

DAY 8

Enjoy breakfast before disembarking for your transfer to the Ketchikan airport, or your Un-Cruise hotel stay or land extension.

The same could also be said about the young American naturalist, anthropologist, paleontologist, and geographer William Dall's many expeditions to Alaska. The undisputed Alaska expert in both biology and Native cultures, he spent years writing about the region and documenting his vast collection for the Smithsonian Museum. Dall loved Alaska, and in 1880, he even took his new bride there for their honeymoon! Setting sail from Ketchikan through the Tongass National Forest, it's time to make your own discoveries.

DAYS 2-7

It was wild and woolly then, and as you'll discover firsthand, it still holds true today. The remoteness is unmatched, and this hidden gem is very much alive with raw forest and an abundance of wildlife both above and below the water's surface. Take to the water by kayak, paddle board, and skiff, keeping watch for a vast array of marine life. At The Brothers Islands, uncover a haulout for Steller sea lions; in two popular summer whale feeding grounds—Frederick Sound and Stephens Passage—join playful porpoise, orca, and humpbacks; and along shore, keep your eyes alert for sea birds, eagles, wolves, and black bear.

In the outer reaches of this wild coastline, try an optional snorkel to peek below the surface, and join a Forest Ranger on a high forest trail hike to explore inside El Capitan Cave, the largest known cave in Alaska and one of the largest mapped caves in the Americas. Pass by hundreds of cascading waterfalls and some of the largest icebergs in Alaska to reach the Twin Sawyer Glaciers at the end of a winding fjord. Eager to share, your captain and expert expedition team know the secrets of the wilderness. On your final evening aboard, join your captain and crew for a farewell toast during dinner and celebrate your spirit of adventure with a reminiscent presentation.

DAY 8

Bid adieu to newfound friends over breakfast before disembarking and transferring to the Juneau airport or your Un-Cruise land extension.

Pre- & post-cruise options are also available. See pages 37-41 for details.

Alaska's Heartland Pre- & Post-Cruise Land Extensions

Your Alaska experience wouldn't be complete without a visit to Alaska's heartland or an extended stay in port. Whether it's a multi-night stay in Denali National Park and Preserve, a fly-in package to a backcountry lodge, or extra days for the unexplored treasures in Juneau, Ketchikan, or Sitka, we make exploring Alaska easy. The call of the wild in Alaska is undeniable—and we offer several enriching land options for you to choose from.

Alaska's interior is an astounding crossroads of mountain ranges, glaciers, and rivers. Each vantage point—whether in a bustling town or the most remote backcountry location—offers a multitude of stunning vistas and things to do. Denali National Park and Preserve—home to Mt. McKinley, whose 20,320-foot peak stands as the tallest in North America—encompasses a 6-million-acre subarctic ecosystem of extraordinary beauty and astonishing wildlife. Low-elevation taiga forest, alpine tundra, and snowy mountains offer solitude, tranquility, and wilderness. Large and small wild animals roam these lands—grizzly bears, caribou, moose, and Dall's sheep are just a few of the species that call the area home.

"It was the trip of a lifetime! Alaska is so beautiful and everyone we met was so friendly, from the people at the hotel we stayed at to all the crew members!"

DAY 1 (Sun) Arrive Fairbanks

On arrival in Fairbanks, you'll be met at the airport and transferred to the Rivers Edge Cottage (or similar). Settle in and join the group for the evening's wine and cheese reception. After a warm welcome from your tour escort, enjoy an overview of your upcoming days of adventure in Alaska's heartland.

DAY 2 (Mon) Denali National Park

Get an early start today! This morning, it'll be breakfast on the rails after arriving at the Fairbanks rail depot and boarding a deluxe dome railcar for a stunner of a ride to Denali National Park. Alaska's frontier unfolds out your 360° window as your tour escort provides narration along the way. Arrive in Denali and get acquainted with the park on a 90-mile bus ride to Kantishna. A feast for the eyes, keep watch for free ranging wildlife—grizzlies, black bears, caribou, Dall sheep, moose, wolves, and fox are regular passersby. If the day is clear, you may even get a glimpse of "the great one" itself—Denali peak. Settle in for a cozy night at the Kantishna Road House (or similar). (BLD)

DAY 3 (Tue) Denali National Park

In the heart of Alaskan wilderness, it's a day of activity. Beneath the watchful gaze of Mt. Timing is Everything!

The “when to go” question comes up often, in fact it’s almost always the first question asked. Rain, bears, whales, sunlight, northern lights—how much, how little, how long, what variety, how high, how low—these are all key interests when planning your Alaskan vacation. It is “The Great Land”, and therefore, there is no “cookie cutter” answer to these curiosities.

MEXICO'S SEA OF CORTÉS

World Heritage Site & Biosphere Reserve

“When I got onboard I soon met many returning passengers and I quickly saw why—this is perfect! I love the flexibility of the schedule.”

— Rosalie M., Cincinnati, OH (Mexico 2015)

Just south of California lies an inland sea known as the Gulf of California, Vermilion Sea, Sea of Cortez, or Sea of Cortés. A birder’s paradise—this rich archipelago serves as an important bird refuge and migration corridor. It is a place author John Steinbeck and marine biologist Ed Ricketts found “ferocious with life” and described by Jacques Cousteau as the “world’s aquarium” and the “Galápagos of North America.” We tend to agree. UNESCO even declared it a World Heritage Site and Biosphere Reserve, noting it as one of the most biologically diverse marine environments on Earth. These wildlife-rich waters and islands are home to both plants and animals found nowhere else.

Here, our inclusive 7-night island-hopping cruises in Mexico’s Sea of Cortés showcase a world of raw beauty, active adventure, authentic culture, and wildlife—boobies, pelicans, frigate birds, blue whales, gray whales, humpbacks, pilot and fin whales, whale sharks, dolphins, mantas, and sea lions. Kayak in glassy coves. Hike along cactus-clad rims and among desert scrub. Snorkel alongside playful sea lions and colorful invertebrates. And in a picturesque setting of red-rock cliffs, relax on a white-sand beach. Explore this extraordinary place and discover firsthand how small the human presence here truly is.

Pre- & Post-Cruise Extensions

Say more “hola’s” before saying “adios” with a hotel stay in quaint San José del Cabo, or on a 7-night adventure to Copper Canyon on Mexico’s mainland. We’ve done the homework on where—you choose and relax.

“The true biologist deals with life, with teeming boisterous life... and learns that the first rule of life is living.”

A clear expression of the passion Nobel Prize-winning author John Steinbeck felt on his 1940 respite from writing, collecting biological specimens in the Sea of Cortés. After an overland orientation transfer, you'll put in at La Paz and head out to sea. Stocked with supplies and a bountiful sense of adventure, follow Steinbeck's path into the protected waters of Cousteau's "world's aquarium."

DAYS 2-7

Wildlife and exploration top your agenda. Don flippers and search for marine life below the surface. Keep your binoculars poised for Blue-footed boobies, brown pelicans, frigate birds, tropic birds, and cormorants perched above, and your eyes peeled for pods of dolphins, blue, fin, or sperm whales as they spout and dive in the glittering sea. Depending on the time of year, you'll have a chance to either swim with whale sharks—the largest known species of fish in the ocean—in Bahía de La Paz, or, if the gray whales have arrived in Magdalena Bay to calve, travel overland to the Pacific coast and observe them in the lagoon from a panga.

At Bahía Agua Verde, experience "real Baja" on a burro ride with a local rancho family; snorkel with playful, agile sea lion pups at craggy Los Islotes; kayak along sandy beaches and hike red-rock outcroppings at Isla Partida and Isla San Francisco. In a setting straight out of a movie set, Isla Espíritu Santo's idyllic bays offer some of the best kayaking, with time for beachcombing along a shell-strewn shore or hiking inland among exotic cacti. Desert landscapes and volcanic ridges are your backdrop for days of skiffing, hiking, kayaking, and paddle boarding, and by night—stargazing and watching the water for magical luminescence. Wrap up the week with a Farewell Dinner and a slideshow from your expedition team recapping your adventures.

DAY 8

After breakfast, you'll be transferred from La Paz to the Los Cabos International Airport or your optional Un-Cruise hotel stay.

Pre- & post-cruise options are also available. See page 46 for details.

HAWAIIAN ISLANDS

Aloha, Like No Other

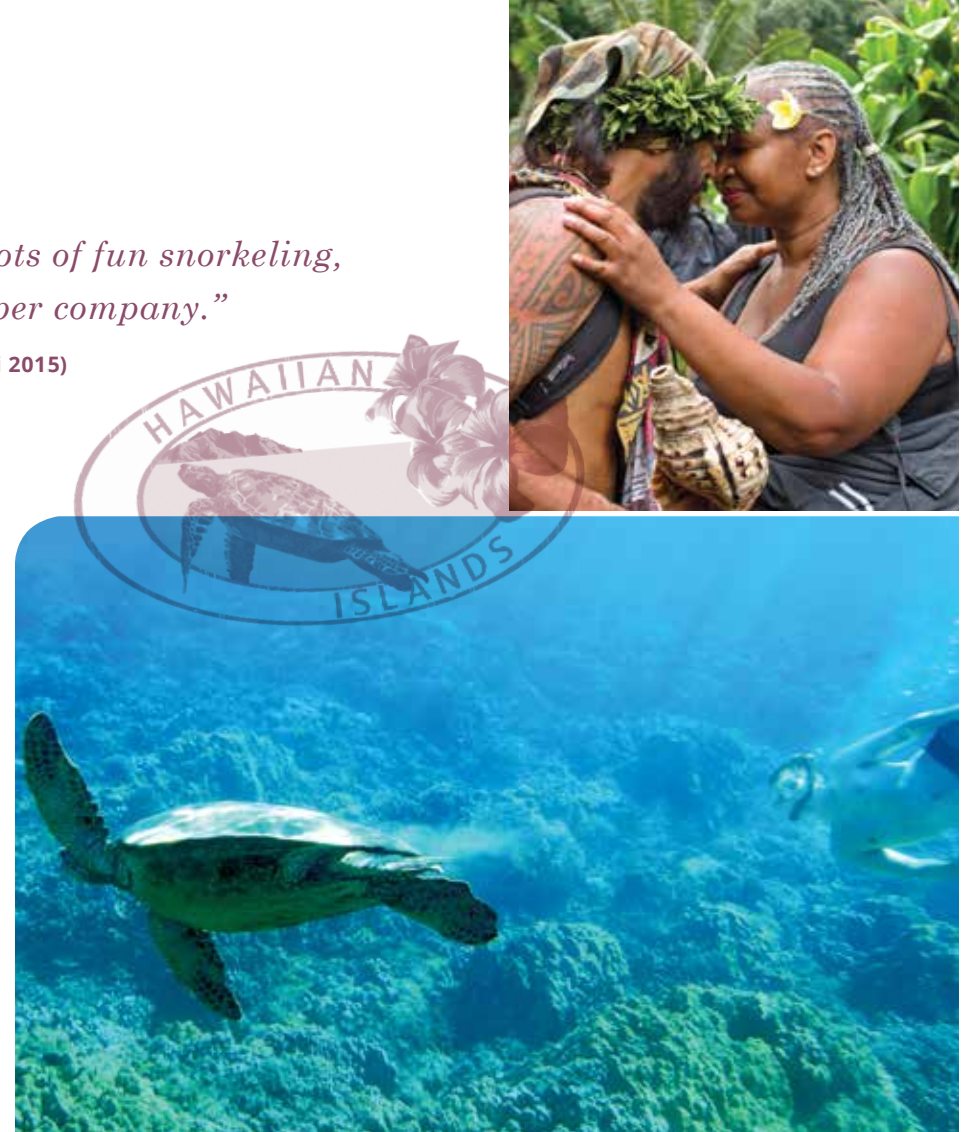

“The trip has been a ball. Great crew, great food, lots of fun snorkeling, kayaking... Un-Cruise (Adventures) is a super company.”

— Bob L. & Vicki K., Manhattan Beach, CA (Hawaii 2015)

Roughly 15,000 years ago and after sailing over 2,000 miles in canoes, Polynesians set foot on what is today Hawaii. Formerly the “Sandwich Islands,” named by Captain Cook following his 1778 visit, the warring islands were united into a single royal kingdom by King Kamehameha in 1810. The kingdom enjoyed peaceful times during the king’s reign and has flourished ever since. Today, aloha spirit remains at the core of Hawaiian culture. An archipelago of volcanic islands and atolls, the chain forms the largest marine sanctuary in the world and one of the world’s most important habitats for humpback whales. Two-thirds of the North Pacific population migrates here each winter for breeding, calving, and nursing.

Your inclusive exploration aboard our 36-guest yacht hops among the islands of Molokaʻi, Lānaʻi, Maui, and Hawaiʻi. Watch marine life gracefully leap around your skiff; “talk story” with locals; enjoy exclusivity; spend time at play—kayaking, paddle boarding, hiking, and snorkeling. Onboard, relax on deck, mingle in the lounge, or chat up the captain. Many of our crew members are from the islands—so they know its secrets and keep it authentic—and uncover the islands’ natural gifts in a way only accessible on an Un-Cruise adventure. Immerse yourself in aloha, and experience the islands from a different perspective.

Pre- & Post-Cruise Extensions

The magic of aloha! Celebrate a wedding, birthday, or an adventure you don’t want to end—with a stay on Molokaʻi or the Big Island. We’ve found you idyllic spots with access to beaches or world-class golf where you can happily get sand in your shoes.

Life is in a gentle breath of wind...*

Like a string of pearls pulled from the sea, the jewels of your voyage are its exclusive amenities and unmatched encounters. And much like King Kamehameha united the islands into a joyous kingdom back in 1810, you'll follow suit, uniting them on a harmonic voyage of exploration, exchanges with locals, and learning about Hawaii's rich, Polynesian-influenced culture. Your inter-island adventure promises to be filled with pleasantries, high-quality service, and warm alohas.

DAYS 2-7

Get a sense of Hawaii long ago. Talk story and be enticed by Hawaiian legend and the hula's soothing rhythm. During a week of kayaking, snorkeling, paddle boarding, and cultural visits, the history of this ancient homeland unfolds. With no stop lights and no high-rises, you'll welcome leisure time in the paniolo town of Kaunakakai, the lingering scent of plumeria, and Moloka'i's slower pace. Gear up for water play at Lāna'i and hike to the island's spatter and cinder cone. And if you're lucky, paddle an outrigger from a Maui beach and linger under Lahaina's giant Banyan tree (with tuneful Myna's perched limb-to-limb).

The Humpback National Marine Sanctuary provides front-row seats as you cruise these marine breeding grounds keeping watch for dolphins, whales, and other marine life. By skiff, explore shores lined with lava tubes and coconut palm-fringed bays. Discover coral gardens chock-full of colorful underwater life, snorkel in a known sea turtle habitat by day, and at night, with Giant Pacific Manta rays. Skiff into Kealahou Bay—where Captain Cook was slain in 1779—for some of the island of Hawai'i's best snorkeling. Uncover the charm of historic Kailua-Kona as you leisurely stroll around town. On your last evening, celebrate your voyage and the spirit of aloha with the Captain's Farewell Dinner and a photographic recap of your adventure.

DAY 8

After docking at Kawaihae Harbor, you'll be transferred to the Kona Airport or to your extended Un-Cruise hotel stay.

New

Pura vida! and an Engineering Marvel

*“Everything was awesome! Best crew, best views, best adventure.
I’m gonna miss this vacation!”*

— Ally P., Poway, CA (Alaska 2015)

It’s a bridge of blue oceans. Nestled between the Pacific Ocean and the Caribbean Sea—verdant rainforests alive with rare flora and wild fauna, picture-perfect tropical islands, and the Panamá Canal. Panamá ranks as the #1 country in the world whose people are most thriving—essentially it’s the happiest place on earth. Not far behind, Costa Rica is a close second. These high levels of happiness can likely be attributed to many things—coconut palm-lined shores; untamed wildlife in the water, on land, and in cloud forest canopies; and the friendliness of Panamanians and Ticos. The riches of Central America pay dividends to explorers who come to experience them.

Two inclusive 7-night adventure cruises to tap your senses—especially your sense of wonder. In Panamá, explore the vast Darién Jungle, home to astonishing roseate spoonbills and wily wildlife; snorkel Guna Yala’s (formerly the San Blas) Eden-like islands and discover Native customs; and search for some of the 2,000 humpback whales that migrate to Panamá’s waters each year. Or choose Costa Rica and hike in lush jungle as macaws, sloths, howler monkeys, and squirrel monkeys keep watch on you; kayak and skiff secluded coves and mangrove forests; and count how many of Costa Rica’s 50-plus hummingbirds species you find. Whichever you choose, you’ll transit the 48-mile Panamá Canal and uncover the good life—Pura vida!

Pre- & Post-Cruise Extensions

Central America’s emerald interior is not to be missed! Gain a treetop view in the cloud forest and see Costa Rica’s fiery—and recent—volcanic past on an inland adventure. Or keep it chic with a boutique hotel stay in the capital cities of Panamá or Costa Rica.

Country flag in one hand and a sword in the other...

As the first European to see the legendary Mar del Sur, Vasco Balboa walked into the “southern sea” claiming it for Spain. Hoping to find gold and pearls, it had taken Balboa and his small company of men three weeks to cross the Isthmus of Panamá. It’s your turn to explore these wondrous lands, though your journey will be anything but arduous as you set sail between two seas—gathering unforgettable memories.

DAYS 2-7

An explorer’s dream, discover an array of wildlife and wild lands. In the jungle forests of Curú Wildlife Refuge, Manuel Antonio National Park, and Corcovado—Costa Rica’s largest park—search from canopy to forest floor for spider monkeys, scarlet macaws, colorful tanagers, two- and three-toed sloths, army ants, tree frogs, caimans, anteaters, and white-faced capuchin monkeys. Keep a keen ear peeled for bellowing howler monkeys. The turquoise waters near Isla Tortuga and Coiba’s Granito de Oro—a UNESCO World Heritage Site—a snorkel reveals the colorful world below the water’s surface.

The vibrant gardens, butterflies and bats, and exotic fruits of a tropical botanical reserve are a feast for the senses. And not to be outdone, take a spin in a kayak or board a skiff seeking the rare flora and fauna of the Golfo Dulce mangroves. Adventure calls, and at the end of each day, relax on deck with a tropical beverage in-hand. On your last full day, it’s captain’s choice for the ultimate experience bobbing about the Gulf of Panamá Islands. There are excellent birding opportunities, or perhaps you’ll find yourself in a tiny village at Panamá’s oldest church. Sail into the sunset on one of the top bucket-list “to do’s” on earth—transit the 48-mile-long Panamá Canal, a marvel of engineering and human tenacity. During your transit, celebrate with a special farewell dinner.

DAY 8

Awake to a tasty breakfast, then disembark in Colón and enjoy a scenic transfer to the Panamá City airport for your flight home, or for your post-cruise extension.

Swashbucklers, a river of gold, and the world's greatest man-made ditch...

Purportedly meaning an “abundance of fish, trees, and butterflies,” Panamá has a history as colorful as the many hummingbirds who call this country home. Its abundance enticed conquistadores and pirates, Native cultures and colonizers, and gold prospectors and canal builders like George Washington Goethels who oversaw the completion of the Panamá Canal in 1914. Like those before you, set sail on a conquest to take in the rich culture and natural wonders of Panamá.

DAYS 2-7

Shaped by newcomers over the last 500 years, Darién Jungle remains wild and untouched. Travel the Mogue River by motorized dugout canoe, spotting wily wildlife in the Punta Patiño Nature Reserve—Central America's largest protected area. And, in a remote village upriver, learn from the Emberá about their customs and shop for unique handicrafts—especially their highly-prized baskets. Enjoy a swashbuckling day of play by kayak, paddle board, skiff, or snorkel in Las Perlas, once a favorite of pirates. Begin your acquaintance with the “great ditch” at the Miraflores Locks; tour Casco Antiguo, the historic colonial site where residents rebuilt Panamá City after pirates sacked it in the 1600s; and transit the incredible Panamá Canal where man's achievements meet nature's splendor.

Visit San Lorenzo Fort—UNESCO World Heritage Site—on the Chagres River, where pirates and conquistadors fought for gold and power. Kayak and skiff in this migration hot-spot watching for crested eagle, trogons, toucans, and white hawks—the action is in the sky. Guna Yala (formerly the San Blas) is an indigenous province with over 360 picture-perfect islands. Lounge on a sandy beach, snorkel in crystalline waters, and learn Guna customs on a village tour and a chance to shop for colorful “molos.” Wrap up the week with one of our favorite traditions—a celebratory Farewell Dinner and slideshow recapping your week's adventures.

DAY 8

After breakfast, an overland transfer brings you to the airport, or your Un-Cruise hotel stay.

GALÁPAGOS

Fabled Islands & Ancient Worlds

New

“We will be back. So impressed we put a deposit on two additional (cruises).”

— Ken T., Kenneth Square, PA (Hawaii 2014)

Two wildly unique places that share the experience of incredible evolution. Dating to the first millennium, the Kingdom of Quito became a center of the Inca Empire where fortresses were built among bustling markets. Spanish arrival signaled the end of the empire, ushering in new traditions and architecture. Considered the Americas’ most beautiful colonial city, Quito was the city all others wished to mimic. Different in the extreme, the Galápagos had fiery beginnings. Over time, the volcanic islands each eroded distinctively, making way for endemic flora and fauna in astounding variety. Today, the Galápagos are the preeminent symbol of evolution, and one of the world’s most—if not the most—treasured, biologically-distinct ecosystems.

The Galápagos Islands and Quito’s historic city center—both UNESCO World Heritage Sites—are shining stars of Ecuador. Wander Quito’s remarkably preserved Old Town, and as a delightful cherry-on-top, overnight in the elegant Casa Gangotena Hotel, the residence of several presidents in the late 1800s. In the Galápagos, step ashore on eight islands and islets. Arguably the world’s most iconic marine habitat, this unspoiled archipelago is filled with exquisite creatures—giant tortoises, red-footed boobies, Darwin’s finches, penguins, Waved Albatross, and rowdy sea lions. Hike, snorkel, and kayak, discovering the unexpected as Charles Darwin did in 1835.

Pre- & Post-Cruise Extensions

You’ve traveled far, so why not take it all in—the Amazon basin, Native cultures, and exotic wildlife; Incan Ruins, Peruvian culture, and Machu Picchu. We’ve put together the land packages—see what’s on your bucket list.

“From so simple a beginning endless forms most beautiful and most wonderful have been, and are being evolved.”

This was naturalist, Charles Darwin’s observation of the Galápagos Islands. During his 1835 voyage aboard the HMS Beagle, his discoveries exceeded expectation, changing his view of the world. Like Darwin, this unrivaled archipelago will alter you, too. But first, begin your travels on Ecuador’s mainland in the highest capital city in the world—Quito!

DAYS 2-9

From historic hotel Casa Gangotena, Quito’s “old city” is yours to explore. Visit historic plazas, beautifully preserved churches, and a fascinating pre-Columbian museum. Witness the mastery of local artisans and watch the city transform into a glittering gem from a cliff-top restaurant at sunset. Once on board La Pinta, discover Darwin’s Galápagos. Skiff to Isla San Cristóbal’s untouched beaches and walk among a colony of rowdy sea lions. A birders paradise, count the many species—Red-footed boobies, nocturnal swallow-tailed gulls, seabirds, shorebirds, tropic birds—including the world’s entire population of Waved Albatross on Isla Española. By snorkel or glass bottom boat, watch for colorful fish, penguins, and reef sharks.

On Isla Santa Cruz, celebrate the Galápagos tortoise at Charles Darwin Research Station and on a trek through misty, forested highlands—their favored habitat. Sombrero Chino Islet and Isla Santiago offer encounters with iguanas and marine life. Climb the wooden staircase on Isla Bartolomé for a spectacular panorama of iconic Pinnacle Rock. Rugged cliffs and white-sand beaches on Isla Genovesa are home to red-footed boobies, storm petrels, Darwin’s finches, elusive short-eared owls, and giant frigatebirds. “Bird Island,” welcomes you with the unique calls of its residents bustling about nesting and raising their young. Commemorate an unforgettable adventure at the Farewell Dinner.

DAY 10

After breakfast, transfer from Isla Baltra to the airport for your flight to Quito then home, or disembark in Guayaquil for your post-cruise flight to Peru.

— John A., Mundelein, IL (Columbia & Snake Rivers 2014)

Roll on, Columbia, roll on. Imagine lashing down the wagon and being among the first to arrive along these rivers. Nearly 40 years after the Corps of Discovery expedition of 1804, thousands were drawn west by cheap land, patriotism, or the promise of a better life. Indigenous peoples had long been present when waves of pioneers arrived. Then industrialists came along to harness the mighty Columbia, and in 1943, the world's first full-scale nuclear reactor was established at the Hanford Nuclear Reservation as part of the Manhattan Project. Forged by volcanic eruptions 40-60 million years ago and catastrophic floods near the end of the last ice-age, the basin has been inhabited by humans for over 15,000 years. Today, the river's dams produce more hydroelectric power than any other North American river.

Embrace the American West spirit and encompass the dramatic contrast of stark natural vistas and hand-of-man achievements. Cruising nearly 1,000 miles—conveniently, roundtrip Portland, Oregon—our inclusive 7-night voyages aboard an 88-guest replica coastal steamer bring the region's history to life. Historians, heritage guides, guest experts, and included excursions ashore to museums, forts, and wineries carry you through time sharing its varied past and how agriculture and engineering have shaped this vast region.

NARRATION BY GUEST EXPERTS
& GUIDES

"Fresh breezes and pleasant weather; many natives alongside; at noon all canoes left us."

Journey through time along the Columbia, Snake, and Willamette Rivers and your senses awaken much as they did for Captain Robert Gray. In 1792, Gray discovered and named the Columbia River after his ship, the Columbia Rediviva. As you push off the Portland dock enjoying champagne and hors d'oeuvres, it is certain your expedition will have you traveling in greater comfort than your predecessors—who without the aid of modern amenities, undertook long, tough journeys. Joined by legendary and colorful personalities, the history along these shores comes to life.

DAYS 2-7

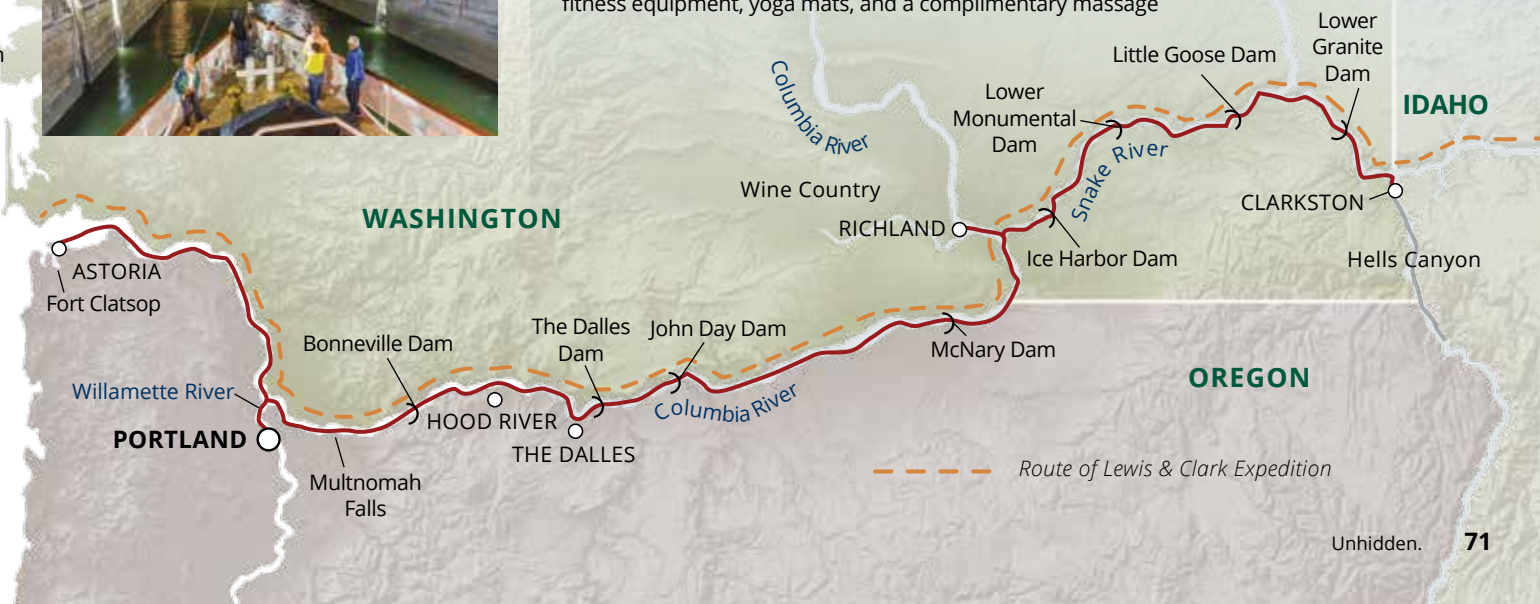

Passing evergreen forests, high desert, and canyons, cruise upriver transiting eight sets of locks and dams and centuries of history—filled with stories of hardship and triumph. Learn the legend of a beautiful Indian maiden—the winter spirit of a towering waterfall, about the Nez Perce, and the encounters of Lewis & Clark. Cruise the 80-mile long Columbia River Gorge cutting through the Cascade Mountains and past hillsides of wind turbines, orchards, vineyards, and wheat fields that have shaped the land. On a jet boat into Hells Canyon, watch for 7,000-year-old petroglyphs, and up vertical cliffs for bighorn sheep and golden eagles.

The region's basalt flows and Ice Age floods; Native cultures and early pioneers; Manhattan Project; and a diverse changing landscape are the focus at Richland's Hanford Reach Interpretive Center. At award-winning Terra Blanca Winery & Estate Vineyard, enjoy a private tour, tasting, and delectable lunch. European history stands sentry at Maryhill Museum—a castle-like chateau built by entrepreneur Sam Hill. Near the mouth of the Columbia, time stands still at Fort Clatsop, a replica of the Corps of Discovery's last encampment. Visit Astoria Column perched atop Coxcomb Hill—600 feet above sea level; stroll the quaint streets of Victorian Astoria; and explore the Columbia River Maritime Museum. Enjoy a Farewell Dinner and relive your week through photos and storytelling.

DAY 8

Bid adieu this morning before your transfer to the Portland airport or extended Un-Cruise stay in town.

What in Sam Hill?

As it turns out, "what" was a man with a vision.

Near the turn-of-the-century, entrepreneur Sam Hill headed west with an unwitting desire to build roads, public works, a town, and ultimately, a home for his bride. In the years following, Sam's fortitude yielded success in many endeavors, including a replica of Stonehenge, but his bride refused the mansion—Maryhill—it being too far from the city. As you set sail along the Willamette River with your crew and guest wine expert, your yearn-to-learn the rivers' history and partake of the region's wines will surely be accomplished.

DAYS 2-7

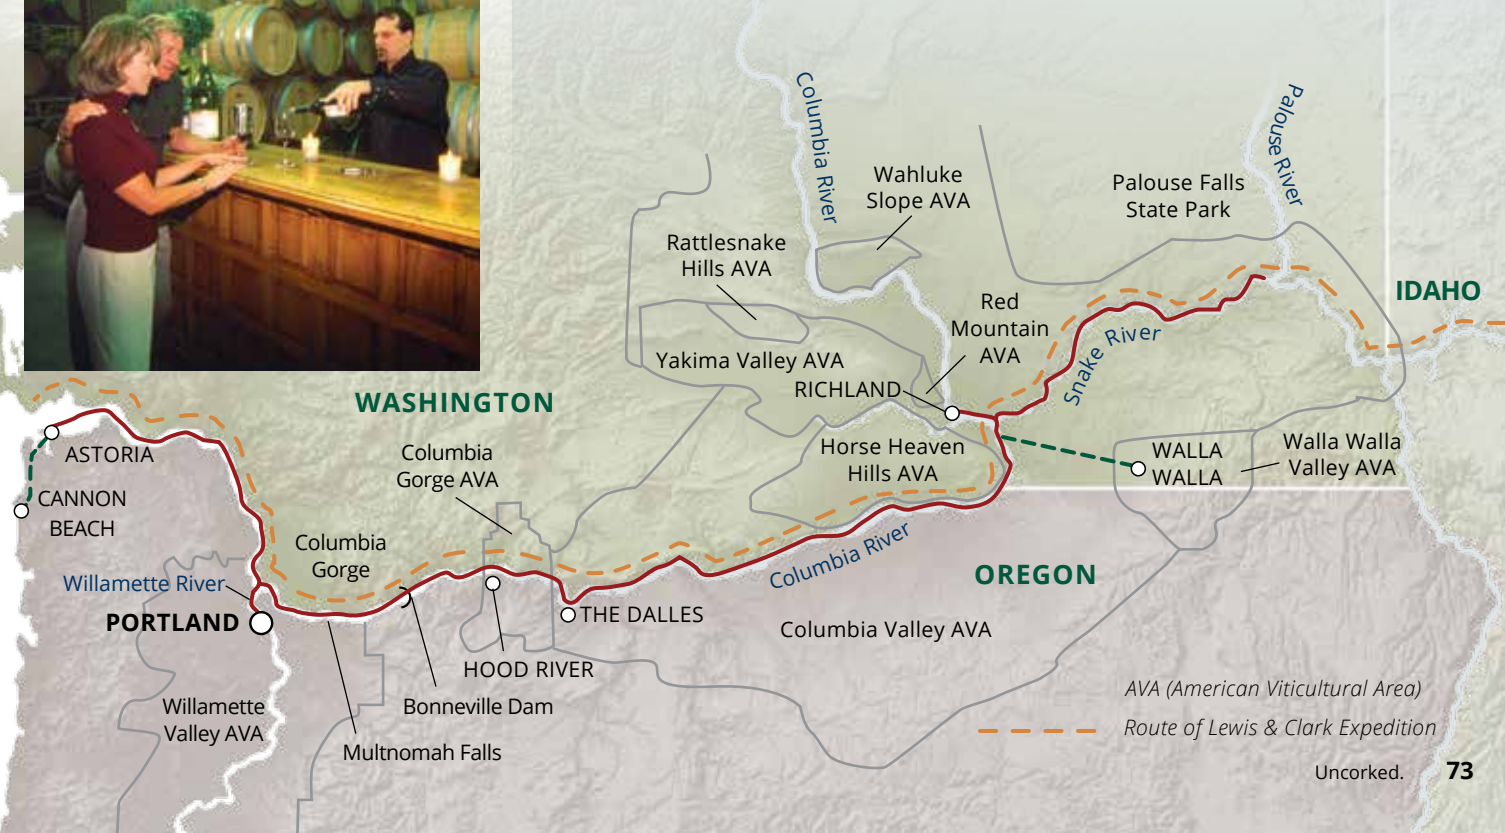

Along the Columbia, Snake, and Palouse Rivers, oenophiles, winemakers, owners, historians, and naturalists join you on board and ashore—for sumptuous cuisine, superb tastings, and engaging interaction. Cruise spectacular Columbia Gorge; see towering falls; and uncover the legend of Big Beaver in Palouse Falls canyon. Your lineup of wineries features tours and tastings at Hood River's Springhouse Cellars; and in the Gorge, Maryhill Winery and AniChe Cellars. In Walla Walla—named one of the top ten wine regions in the world—swirl a glass at Bergevin Lane; there's art and a pour at Dunham Cellars; and enjoy a lunch soiree. Taste the pride of the Red Mountain AVA at Terra Blanca Winery & Estate Vineyard and at The Dalles' Sunshine Mill Winery.

Hanford Reach Interpretive Center uncovers the area's natural, scientific, and cultural history. And see an eclectic art collection at Maryhill Museum. For the ultimate coastal visit, learn about Washington and Oregon wines with a tasting and presentation at The Wine Shack in Cannon Beach and enjoy free time exploring Victorian Astoria. Join your guest wine expert at the week's grand finale of rivers and wine—the Captain's Dinner!

DAY 8

Following breakfast, say farewell before disembarking for your included transfer to the Portland airport or your optional Un-Cruise hotel stay.

PACIFIC NORTHWEST

Natural Wonders. Unleashed Adventure.

“I love the fact that there are activities for all levels of ability and fitness. No pressure or intimidation. Everything I hate about “big” cruises is absent here. ”

— Bernadette R., Orlando, CA (Washington 2015)

Sail through an intricate network of islands, inlets, and passages, sure to stir any modern-day explorer. The Salish Sea—a name officially approved by the Canadian and United States governments in 2009—stretches from the coastal waters of Washington’s Puget Sound in the south, through the San Juan Islands, past British Columbia’s Gulf Islands, Vancouver Island, and to the Strait of Georgia in the north. Charters by Captain George Vancouver in the 1790s, this vast archipelago has been an important trade route to the indigenous peoples of the region for thousands of years.

Choose from two 7-night adventure cruises. Explore Washington’s old-growth and temperate rainforests, islands, and winding channels—wilderness hikes on Mt. Constitution and in the Olympic National Park, a UNESCO World Heritage Site. Snorkel, kayak, paddle board, and skiff in glacial fjords and the San Juan archipelago. Or, opt for an inclusive exploration and sail into a yachters’ paradise on both sides of the border—take in nature’s wonders by kayak, skiff, or on foot, witness British Columbia’s stunning Princess Louisa Inlet, High Tea in British-influenced Victoria, and discover the San Juan Islands and a charming seaside town. With either, experience first-hand Mother Nature’s role in creating some of the most dramatic scenery in coastal Washington and British Columbia.

Pre- & Post-Cruise Extensions

Art aficionados, foodies, sports fans, music buffs—see what the fuss is about. Take in a show or a gastro tour, catch a flying fish or catch views from the Space Needle. We’ve picked the spot—enjoy our hometown, and more!

*"Take nothing but memories,

A wild world of natural wonder. Seattle's namesake, Chief Sealth, was awed by these dramatic, coastal lands and you will be too. Guided by the natural world, you'll join him in spirit as you sail from Seattle—exploring islands, hiking in rainforests and up mountains, and paddling the waterways of Puget Sound and the San Juan Islands.

DAYS 2-7

We're a tad partial to our neighborhood and can't wait to show it off! You'll wake up in some of the quietest reaches of the Sound—surrounded by old growth forest, intertidal wetlands, and rocky outcroppings. Throughout the week, keep watch for astounding marine life—whales, orcas, seals, and sea lions. In South Hood Canal, a local family treats you to a home-grown oyster and clam tasting. Days of play will have you hiking in Olympic National Park—a UNESCO World Heritage Site—and to the top of Mt. Constitution for panoramic views.

Explore above and below the surface at Lopez, San Juan, and Orcas Islands. And, at picturesque Sucia Island, explore tide pools, hike across the island, and kayak in a protected bay. If Mother Nature cooperates, there might even be a bonfire ashore. For your final treat of the week, your captain pulls anchor and guides you through the archipelago and near Deception Pass. Excellent whale watching and birding opportunities abound—watch for Tufted Puffins, Rhinoceros Auklets, and Bald Eagles. Relish an afternoon of adventure hikes, shore walks, and kayaking. Following the Farewell Dinner, wrap up the evening with a slideshow highlighting your week's adventures.

Unleash your inner explorer and settle into the rhythm of the Salish Sea.

As your yacht sails north for Canada from Seattle's Puget Sound, enjoy the sunset and get a lay of the land (ahem, islands). When Captain George Vancouver first sailed through in the 1790s, these First Nations waters had not yet been charted by Europeans. In fact, he renamed nearly every island, mountain, waterway, and point of land in sight. And thanks to him, your captain and crew know just where they're going, leaving more time for sharing the area's wildlife and wonders.

DAYS 2-7

Land and sea explorations—wherever the tides take you! On the southern tip of British Columbia's Vancouver Island sits Victoria, your launch point for High Tea at the Empress Hotel, and a chance to browse the city's quaint shops or visit one of the garden city's many museums. Your voyage continues in the Strait of Georgia, sailing along Canada's Sunshine Coast to the Harmony Islands; along the intricate passages of the Gulf Islands; and through the Malibu Rapids to stunning Princess Louisa Inlet, walled in by 3,000-foot near vertical mountains. By day anchor in sheltered bays for kayaking, exploring by skiff, or hiking ashore; and by night, nestle into a remote anchorage.

Wildlife flourishes where evergreen forests fall steeply to the shore—orca whales search for salmon, seals and sea lions lounge on rocky islets, and eagles soar overhead. Once again, sail over the border into the dramatic scenery of Washington's San Juan Islands—an archipelago of 172 islands and rocky islets. Spend your last day with a visit to tiny Friday Harbor and The Whale Museum, searching for orca, and "gunkholing," or exploring as the land lubbers say. A festive Farewell Dinner and a picturesque recap of the week from your expedition leader cap off your last evening.

After one last breakfast with your travel mates, your journey ends with a morning transfer to the Seattle airport or your Un-Cruise hotel stay in Seattle.
